WHAT'S NEW IN THE STORE

We are introducing shaped metal ornaments into our store this holiday season. While they can be hung on a tree, we see our clients hanging these up all year around the house. They make the perfect gift for the season and will be enjoyed for years to come. These ornaments are made of high quality aluminum and are built to last. Imagine the look on your loved one's face when they open their gift to find a beautiful photo of you waiting inside.

Coming in a variety of shapes and for only $45 these prints are a holiday steal!

WELCOME TO ISSUE TWO

Well here we are! We have made it through another month of this rollercoaster of a year. Holiday season is mighty busy around here. Lots of our clients like to take the opportunity of cooler weather to get their family photos done, so we are on set most weekends.

The change in the air always brings about a new wave of creativity and adventure. We like to go out and scout new places where we may photograph clients in the future. It is also a great time for us to explore new projects... more on that later!

I truly hope you are enjoying this newsletter and I look forward to bringing you more in the new year!

A NEW PROJECT

This time of the year is always so inspiring! The lights and colors of the season have our creative juices in flux. We have been tackling an in-house creative project that we can't wait to share with everyone!

Keep an eye out for early January when we are hoping to go live with the photoshoot. The concept was born from Matt and Red's heads, and will be starring Red as the model. We are incorporating live flowers and vibrant colors into this shoot, and could not be more excited.

It has been conceptualized over the past few months and the whole team is eager for this project to come to life. I cannot wait to bring you more information and behind the scenes looks at the whole timeline, so be sure to stay tuned!

LET'S MEET CHRIS

Chris Spicks picked up his first camera when he was 15 years old and he hasn't put one down since! His passion was born when he took a photography class in high school, and had the encouragement and praise of the teacher. She would always be impressed with his creative eye and the angels he would find when looking at a scene.

Chris has always been an artist and his obsession with lighting started when he was very young. Often being fascinated with lighting fixtures in his youth and on into adulthood, learning how to manipulate light would become a huge part of his life.

When not shooting with a camera, you can find Chris shooting pool with his friends or spinning fire down the street from his home. He also enjoys painting with acrylics and airbrush when the time allows. You can see his love for bunnies in much of his artwork!
